PWL Combination Pouch

As standard, the PWL combination pouch brings together 3 of our most requested items:

- Handcuff holder
- Expandable baton holder
- Incapacitant spray holder

A new feature of the combination pouch is the elasticated side of both the baton holder and the incapacitant spray holder. This feature enhances the fit of the items to prevent accidental loss, but also reduces wear and tear on the pouch itself.

The body and backing of the PWL combination pouch are made of 1000 Denier nylon. The back of the combination pouch features 2 separate boot clips. Having 2 clips in this manner allows the combination pouch to closely follow the shape of the boot or belt for an excellent fit. Other attachment methods are available on request.

The range of PWL combination pouches will be expanded throughout the Spring and Summer of 2010 to include new combinations of equipment holders. Please contact us if you have specific kit combinations you would be interested in testing.

PWL Elasticated Pouches

The flexibility of production at PWL means that we are also able to produce elasticated pouches, as featured in the combination pouch, for individual items.

Each pouch can be ordered with belt loops, Coplock or Klick-Fast buckles. Elasticated pouches can be produced for data/radio equipment, batons, notebooks and a wide range of duty equipment.
